“Filling the Gap”
Sound Information from Reliable Sources

Some Federal agencies are pulling their guidance documents from their websites. Other Federal agencies have put off new ADA rulemaking indefinitely. No new guidance documents from Federal agencies are on the horizon. But ADA Coordinators need to have ready access to usable, understandable, accurate information on what the ADA requires and on “best practices” to open programs, services, and activities to persons with disabilities.

The National Association of ADA Coordinators stands ready to fill the gap. We have once again assembled a formidable team of outstanding ADA experts. For four days in April we will provide reliable, practical information on how to comply with the ADA; we’ll answer your questions; and we’ll give you usable documents to take home. So come to Tampa, Florida in April 2018, and you will find that NAADAC’s Spring Conference is “Filling the Gap with Sound Information from Reliable Sources.”

1:00p - 2:00p (1 PA CEU)	RAISING UP THE RIGHT TO BE RESCUED WHEN THE REAL EMERGENCY STRIKES – EMERGENCY PREPAREDNESS - PART ONE As our society confronts more emergencies that test the limits of our capabilities, tough decisions will lie ahead. Although popular accounts sometimes state that the tenet of natural disasters is that they choose their victims capriciously and without remorse, the truth is far more disturbing—we choose the victims by failing to accommodate their needs. Challenging ourselves to remember that all members of society should have access to opportunities regardless of the impairments they may face may be the most difficult in moments of crisis; it is also no less important then. All too often, litigation serves to drive home lessons a willing listener could have learned long ago, litigation could have been avoided, and the parties could have gotten down to the business of crafting solutions much sooner. Irene Bowen, John Wodatch, Jim Terry, Jim Bostrom, Dean Perkins
